

Reviewing the Grand Parade at the first Alpine Festival is (l-r) Gene Brewer, Kenneth Schreur, Nic Enders, Governor George Romney, Harold Elgas and Warren Smith.

Saluting contributors to northern Michigan quality of life

Invocation, the Rev. Carl Heidel; Ted Engel Jr., master of ceremonies.

1971

Law Enforcement Agencies

On July 17, Col. Frederick David, president of the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police and former commander of the Michigan State Police, was the speaker.

Edward H. Calkins was the master of ceremonies and the Rev. Raymond Roe delivered the invocation.

Honorees were Mike O'Rourke, prosecuting attorney; Sgt. John Hughes, Michigan State Police, Sheriff Ralph Holewinski, and Robert Tibbits, Chief of Police.

1972

Michigan State Highway Dept.

The honor followed a $1 million street building project completed in November 1971. The project rebuilt Main Street from Hidden Valley Resort to the expressway and beyond, including a storm-water system that eliminated a serious community flooding problem.

John P. Woodford, deputy director and chief engineer of the Dept. of State Highways, gave the main address.

Also recognized were E.V. Erickson, Claude Turbin, highway commissioners; Larry Bowers, Darrel Fleming, Al Coon and Don Butcher; and Donald Harmon, city manager.

Tome Wisemean and Charles Robinson, engineers, were also honored.

Ted Engel Jr. was the master of ceremonies, and Bishop Edmund Szoka gave the invocation.

Entertainment was provided by Schlang's Bavarian Band.

1973

Principal owner and founder of the Hidden Valley / Otsego Ski Club, Alan L. Gornick, was the speaker at the luncheon held at the resort.

Other participants included C. Thorn Murphy, Jack Davis and Keith Gornick.

The honor coincided with Hidden Valley's 35th anniversary.

Robert Fritz was master of

This Page Courtesy Of

Nelson, Petruska & Allen, P.C.

1260 Old 27 South Gaylord 732-2491