

H. S. Edmonds, D. D. S.

One of Gaylord's busy and popular young men is Dr. H. S. Edmonds. Fresh from the University of Michigan he came to Gaylord about two months ago and acquired the dental practice of Dr. J. A. McLaren. His pleasing personality and business principals have already won for him a host of friends. Mr. Edmonds is a Welshman by birth having been born in Tenby, South Wales. At an early age he with his parents emigrated to Galt Ont., where he received a preliminary education. At the age of 16 he was apprenticed to learn the trade of saw making at which he served for five years. Being ambitious and having a taste for dentistry he did not follow up his trade, but entered the dental department of the University of Toronto where he remained until he finished his junior year. He went to Ann Arbor in the fall of 1904 and completed his course there.
