

We're Achieving Great Things Here

We make the machines that make your cars, your tires and the paper you write on from customer specifications calling for the most precise and exacting measurements and requirements. That's a tough order. There's no margin for error ... no margin for less than high quality products. We've been doing this for twenty-five years in Michigan, and ten of those years right here in Gaylord. We're the backbone of American industry ... the industrial manufacturers and suppliers without whom there'd be no industry. So, next time you drive by our plant ... think of us ... making it happen for industry .. making it happen for you.
