Advance serves electrical needs

GAYLORD — Advance Electric of Gaylord serves product needs of area electrical contractors for commercial, residential and industrial construction.

Founded in 1971 by owners-managers Jim and Kathy Driver, Advance Electric now has the largest lighting showroom in northern Michigan.

Located just off I-75 on Carpenter Street, the firm stocks products for retail and wholesale sale to professionals and do-it-yourselfers alike.

Advance Electric offers free kitchen design and stocks a wide assortment of appliances, vanities and cabinets.
